

The Bloomfield Record.

(OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE TOWNSHIP.)

N. M. HULIN, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1875.

All who are interested in having a live newspaper in this village are requested to send us by mail, or to the publishing office, local items of news, correspondence, etc., for publication.

No charge is made for publishing Marriages, Deaths, or Religious Notices. Single numbers of the Record can always be had at this Office, at the Post Office, and of the Newsdealers.

All kinds of PRINTING done at The Record Office.

School Meeting.

The annual school meeting was held on Monday evening last in the High School Room. Mr. E. W. Page acted as chairman. There was an attendance of only about thirty, owing to the fact that two entertainments had been announced for the same evening—the mock trial at the Union Hall and a concert in the M. E. church.

A motion was made by Mr. E. S. Wilde to proceed to elect the trustees, and that tellers be appointed by the meeting for that purpose. An amendment made by Mr. D. Oakes that the tellers should be appointed by the Chairman, was voted upon and lost. The meeting then appointed as tellers Jos. A. Davis, Jr. and James P. Jones. Nominations were then made and the names written on the blackboard. Upon balloting, the following named gentlemen were declared elected.

A. T. MORRIS,
JOHN SHERMAN,
V. G. THOMAS,
W. J. WILLIAMSON,
M. W. DODD.

No other business was transacted and the meeting adjourned at an early hour.

The Road Board Supplement.

The following is a supplement to the Road Board act, which, having been introduced in the Legislature, has passed its first reading:

Be it enacted, That the assessment for money necessary to pay the compensation directed to be made in and by an act entitled "An act constituting a public Road Board for the laying out and constituting, appropriating, improving and maintaining public carriage roads in Essex county," approved March 31, 1869, and the several supplements thereto, for land and property taken for and in the laying out of Bloomfield avenue, through the townships of Bloomfield and Montclair, or for any change or alteration of grade or drainage whatever, with lawful interest thereon, shall be raised and paid in manner following, to wit: one-fourth of the whole ascertained cost, interest and expenses as aforesaid shall be assessed by the assessors of benefits appointed under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement and the several supplements thereto upon the lands fronting on said avenue in said townships respectively, per lineal foot front in accordance with the peculiar benefits, in the opinion of said assessors, derived by said frontage in said townships respectively, and shall be payable in the same manner and number of installments as now provided by law, and the balance, amounting to three-fourths of the said money, shall be raised and paid upon the warrant of said Board and for said townships respectively, and shall be assessed, levied, and collected upon and from the property in said townships respectively in four equal yearly installments, one thereof in the year 1875, and another thereof in each year thereafter until the whole thereof shall have been collected and paid in the same manner and by the same officers as other township taxes are assessed, &c., and when collected shall be paid to the county collector of said county at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes are paid to him. All acts inconsistent with this act are repealed so far as they relate to the said Bloomfield avenue in said township and all proceedings whatever in relation to the said assessment conflicting with the provisions of this act are hereby set aside. To take effect immediately.

The Newark Presbytery.

This organization has been in session in the Park church, Belleville avenue, Newark. Rev. Dr. Newlin was dismissed to the Presbytery of Morris and Orange, and Mr. A. Harmon Hager, a theological student, transferred to the care of the Presbytery of Dubuque. It was decided to hold the next Fall session of the Presbytery in the First church, Bloomfield.

The following delegates to the General Assembly were chosen: Rev. W. W. Eddy and Rev. George C. Pollock primaries, with Rev. Dr. J. R. Berry and Rev. Charles S. Berry alternates; also Elders Wm. Rankin and E. F. Doran primaries, with Dr. S. H. Pennington and Francis K. Howell alternates.

The Committee on Pleasant Valley reported that a church should be established there. They were directed to bring the matter before the Presbytery of Morris and Orange.

Rev. Dr. Knox, President of the German Theological School, read his annual report, which was accepted and referred to a special committee, consisting of Rev. Dr. Berry and Rev. H. W. Ballantine, with power to confer with committees of Directors, with power to publish such portions as they may see proper.

The Great Trial.

Deep interest was taken in the trial of the case of Marrett against Baxfield which came off at the Special Term of the Superior Court of Bloomfield before His Honor, Judge Lightfoot, on Monday evening last. The chief cause of this absorbing interest was the high respectability of both plaintiff and defendant, and the fact that the most brilliant legal talent of the township had been retained as counsel. The action was for damage sustained by the plaintiff from the bite of a supposed, rabid animal, of the canine species, belonging to the defendant. The jury on this case comprised some of our foremost citizens. The counsel for Mr. Marrett were Messrs. Reford and Crane, Mr. Baxfield also had two lawyers, Messrs. Foulke and Kennedy.

The cause was duly opened, the first witness sworn being the plaintiff himself. His emaciated and careworn appearance seemed to corroborate his testimony, especially where it referred to the anxiety he had for long years labored under in consequence of the assault.

Several other witnesses were examined on both sides. It was a keenly contested battle, and watched with the greatest solicitude by the large gathering of spectators who filled the Court Room. The examination of witnesses and the frequent arguments put forth by counsel consumed two hours. At ten o'clock, the Judge, with becoming gravity rose to charge the jury. This charge was a marvel of forensic ability. The jury were instructed, in regard to the question of damages, that they must first determine whether the plaintiff had an estate in himself. Some of the evidence adduced, the court held, tended to prove that a lady had a title in this gentleman, and therefore in an action for damage she only was the party who could claim damages. Various other points were perspicuously presented to the jury. A verdict was rendered, after due deliberation. It was the startling and unexpected one of MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE, sentence to be executed on the spot. It was also enjoined upon the plaintiff to marry the lady, whose name was not disclosed, but who seemed to be plainly implicated in this remarkable case. The opinion expressed by some of the spectators, on dispersing, was generally one of approval, and that there certainly was "poetic justice" in the proceedings.

The Montclair Election.

The election held on Tuesday in Montclair resulted favorably for the Republican ticket which was elected with the exception of Town Clerk and one member Town Committee. The Republican vote was 365 to 218 for the Democrats. The scattering votes cast by Republicans for Town Clerk defeated the regular nominee E. J. Hendrix, and Geo. W. Poole, Democrat was elected. Transigent over Alfred Taylor, the Democrats tried hard to defeat Wm. Jacobus, the candidate on the Republican ticket for Assessor. Last year Mr. Jacobus was elected on the Democratic side, but they refused to support him this year, and nominated E. Williams, a Republican, who was defeated for the same office last year. The following is a list of the officers elected:

Assessor, Wm. Jacobus, Clerk, Geo. W. Poole, Collector, E. C. Fuller, Freeholders, S. M. W. Smith, Grant J. Wheeler, Town Committee, J. C. Brantigan, W. Irving Adams, Thos. A. Levy, A. E. Van Gieson, Edgar T. Gould, Road Commissioners, N. O. Pillsbury, Jos. Van Vleck, Amzi A. Sigler, Samuel Wilde, Abram Speer, Commissioners of Appeal, Peter H. Van Riper, J. J. H. Love, Jos. Doremus, Overseer of Poor, Chas. Smith, Justices, N. O. Pillsbury, C. B. Morris, Constables, E. J. Bacon, S. W. Tibbs, Oliver Levy, Road Appropriation, $3,000. Poor, $3,500. Incidentals, $4,500. License, 271, No License 212.

Church Notes.

At the communion service of Westminster church last Sabbath morning, nine persons were admitted to membership with this church; seven upon profession, and all of them from the Sunday School. The religious interest in this, and the 1st Presbyterian church continues unabated. The young people's prayer meetings are well attended, and much benefit has been derived from them means of grace, in each of these churches.

Christ Church Parish held a meeting on Wednesday evening last and decided to adopt the Free Pew System. There was a lively interest manifested in promoting the welfare of the parish. Another parish meeting is called for next Wednesday at 7.30 P. M.

The musical and literary entertainment given by the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday eve. was well attended. Besides the excellent performance by the boys of the Union Home and School, there were several well rendered recitations by Mr. Lowrey.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Missionary Association of the Westminster Sabbath School will be held on Sunday evening next at the Chapel commencing at 7 o'clock. A collection will be taken to assist in the re-building of the girls' school in Canton, China, that has recently been burned, at which the association have been supporting two pupils.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will hold a festival on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, April 14th at the former residence of J. G. Maxfield, Esq. on Franklin street.

The Christ Church people are arranging for a "Spelling School," which is to come off next week, date and place not yet determined. It will doubtless be a success.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON D. C., APRIL 6th, 1875.

Now that the Louisiana question has subsided, the raids from Mexico are a good subject for discussion, and the President is charged as having procured or instigated them for the sake of fomenting a war with Mexico for ambitious purposes. Upon this subject the New York Herald says "the aspirations which General Grant is known to cherish render every chance of a foreign war previous to the next Republican nomination for the Presidency an occasion of anxiety and apprehension." The Herald would have us believe that with its wondrous foresight, it has penetrated futurity or exercised its omniscient prerogative and read the heart of the President, and then exposed his inmost thoughts to the American people, and warned them against the dangers of his ambition.

The President in conversation yesterday, said he was amused at the newspaper statements of what he would do about these recent outrages by armed Mexicans invading the Texan frontier, for they were mere inventions, as he had not expressed any views about the matter, not even to the Secretary of State, who has been away from the city. That he had yet to hold a consultation with the Secretary, and the matter would probably be brought before the Cabinet. He could see no reason for apprehending war between the two countries. Nobody could tell what might happen but the United States would do nothing to provoke such a result.

Several meetings have been held lately, composed of the best business men of the city, for the purpose of protesting against the new District tax bill imposed upon it by Congress. It has been shown by careful estimate that by the provisions of this bill a revenue of one and a half million dollars would be raised, whereas the District Commissioners only asked Congress for a tax sufficient to raise $100,000. The bill was hastily rushed through at the end of the session, and as a Congressman described, without any knowledge of their merits with results stated.

General Sickles' claim that he did not forfeit his position on the retired list in the army, by reason of holding the position of Minister to Spain longer than one year, has been decided in his favor. The last Congress passed a law in reference to General Crawford, a retired officer, and in the same act incorporated a provision in regard to continuing on the retired list all officers on the rolls who had not resigned. The Secretary of War construes this law as covering the case of Gen. Sickles, that he is still on the rolls, and is entitled to pay as a Major General on the retired list from the date of his resignation as Minister to Spain.

Mr. Kirk returned from Connecticut, where the election did not "pan out" as good as the Republicans expected. He attributes the defeat of the Republicans to a lack of organization. Towards the close of the campaign there were plenty of speakers, but the Republicans generally were too careless, and failed in many cases to appoint local working committees. With thorough organization he thinks they could easily have carried the state.

The new Treasurer of the United States, Mr. John C. New, has arranged to come to Washington about the middle of June. He will continue to regard Indianapolis as his home, and will retain his identification with the First National Bank of that city in the expectation of renewing his official position in that bank. Mrs. New it is stated "has been greatly opposed to his accepting the position, but it is understood she is now willing to exchange Indianapolis for Washington. She is a native of Virginia, and although not an F. V., she is said to be equal to almost any emergency."

It is also stated that Mr. New, in answer to an inquiry about positions under him, answered that "applications were not in order, for the subordinate offices are full, and the patronage if any there is, falls exclusively to the Sec'y of the Treasury. He had no appointments to make." From this it would appear that Mr. New does not mean to split upon the rock on which his predecessor came to grief.

The Commissioner of Indian affairs has appointed Jas. G. Swan special agent to collect Indian curiosities for the Centennial Exhibition. Henry Elliot, of the Smithsonian, goes to Alaska for the same purpose, the intention of the Department being to make the Indian habits &c., a specialty.

The Sioux Indian delegation, consisting of Red Cloud, Spotted Tail, and their chiefs, are expected to arrive in this city before the first of May, when negotiations for the opening of the Black Hills country will begin. The geologists appointed by the Interior Department to make the survey is to be at Cheyenne by April 15th.

Lester Wallace is playing at Wall's Opera House. Duprez and Benedict's Minstrels are at the "National" this week and the Jubilee Singers give a concert here to-morrow evening.

Last Monday a well-appearing stranger engaged board at the boarding-house of Mrs. Post on Bloomfield ave., securing the best room in the house. He brought no baggage except a small valise, and after taking dinner and supper retired for the night. In the morning it was discovered that he had quietly left during the night, taking with him two pocket-books containing about $50 belonging to other boarders.

The Spring Term of the Public Schools open on Monday.

Legislative Notes.

The Legislature adjourns sine die to-day, leaving a large amount of unfinished business in the Assembly.

Mr. Morrow has introduced a bill authorizing Franklin School District No. 5 to borrow money and issue bonds, not to exceed $8,000—to build a new school house. It passed the House on Tuesday.

A bill calling for the annexation of a portion of Belleville township to Newark has been ordered to a third reading in the Senate as a substitute for the city charter. The district named in the bill has the following boundaries:

Beginning at the center of Second river at the division line between the property now or formerly of the Belleville Printing Company, and the property now or lately of the White Lead Works; thence in a straight line to the southeast corner of the property of the Newark Aqueduct Board; thence westerly along the line of the Newark Aqueduct Board to the Southwesterly corner of their property; thence northerly along the line of the said Newark Aqueduct Board, and on the prolongation of their westerly line to the line of the township of Franklin; thence along the line of the Township of Franklin to the line of Bergen county; thence southerly along the line of Bergen and Hudson counties to the center of Second river; thence up the center of Second river to the place of beginning.

The inhabitants of the annexed portion are to be exempt from tax on account of the city's war or bounty debt. The annexed territory shall constitute the third election district of the Eighth ward, James Moore, Anthony Francisco and John Crisp, of Belleville, and Daniel Dodd, Jerome B. Ward and Charles T. Henry, of Newark, are named as Commissioners to divide the property and money of Belleville township between the annexed and the remaining portions. The bill is to be first submitted for approval by the Common Council of Newark, and then to the voters of Belleville at an election.

In the House on Wednesday Mr. Fitzgerald called up the bill to fix the number of Essex Freeholders at 58. Mr. Dodd opposed the bill as the number proposed was far too great. Next year a new census would be taken and then some arrangement could be entered into for equalizing the Board. Mr. Teed thought the present number about right and that proposed too large. Mr. Fitzgerald spoke in favor of the bill so gave Newark a proper representation. Mr. Kirk said the proposed number would be much too large, though he would be glad to see a more equitable representation between Newark and the townships. Mr. Morrow was in favor of the bill, as it would huddle a large number of matters as to at last draw the attention of the people to the necessity of devising some remedy. The bill was lost, 16 to 34.

A Spelling Match in Montclair.

An entertainment of this kind came off in the Congregational church chapel on Wednesday evening. It was under the management of the ladies of the church. Besides the spelling exercise, some choice music, vocal and instrumental, was given by Misses Wilcox, Pinney and other ladies.

The spelling classes were organized with 15 on a side. Mrs. Bowden and Mr. Dorman were captains. Rev. Mr. Bradford gave out the words and Dr. Pinkham was referee. The spelling was very animated and creditable to those who took part, but the giving out of words of French origin, such as "belles lettres," "frénché the ranks, and finally "pharmacocoeia" proved to be an over-dose for all those who were left.

The Catholic Protectory Bill.

The bill to establish this institution, which had been passed by the lower branch of the Legislature, was taken up in the Senate on Tuesday for final action, having been modified in various ways. On its coming up it was strongly opposed by Senator Taylor, and on coming to a vote was lost—yeas 8, nays 12.

A council of the Order of United American Mechanics of Jersey City has passed the following complimentary resolution in relation to the action upon this bill:

Resolved, That our thanks are due and are hereby tendered to those members of the Legislature of New Jersey, who have caused the passage of the Roman Catholic Protectory Bill, and we especially express our commendation of the conduct of Hon. Wm. H. Kirk, of Essex, who by his able and manly opposition to said bill has earned the increased respect and thanks of all the patriotic citizens of New Jersey.

A State Association of Amateur Base Ball Players.

The necessity for forming a State Association from the Amateur Base Ball Clubs of New Jersey has long been apparent to those interested as a means of protecting the clubs against the revolving system which has been in practice for some time past. The Pavilion club of Jersey City, have, for that purpose, appointed a committee to notify as many clubs in this State as possible that there will be held on the 15th of April next, at Turner Hall, First street, near Jersey ave., Jersey City, a convention to arrange for such an organization. Clubs desiring to be represented will please forward their application to Fred. L. Hopper, No. 288 Fifth st., Jersey City, and send a delegation of two members to said convention. The convention will be called to order at 12 noon.

Prof. W. F. Sherwin, Rev. Geo. C. Peltz and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Clark will be present at the next S. S. Teachers' Association meeting, to be held in the First Presbyterian Church next Wednesday evening. A musical treat is expected.

The Brooklyn Sorrow.

The N. Y. Sun, which of late has discussed the Brooklyn Scandal in a perfectly fearless but impartial way, publishes an article entitled "Fighting the Devil with Gush." The leading opinion is that there has been, in this business, a too free use of the name of the Divinity, and too little of the common principles of truth:

"Mr. Beecher is explaining his letters now, on the stand, and perhaps the interpretation he gives is the correct one; but if it is, he jumbles together divine and very practical things in a way that bewilders a mind of average consistency of thought. Mr. Tilton, whose spiritual clearness he so rapturously eulogizes, did the same thing in a most exasperating way, and clearly as she saw spiritual things, and deeply as her soul divided down into the profundities of religious emotion, she yet, when it came to a matter-of-fact affair of truth and womanly honor, actually lied, so that nobody now can believe the slightest affirmation she may make."

The solemn relation between man and his Maker, and the great problems of his being, must engage the thought and occupy the study of every earnest man. They rightly ultimate in earnestness without which the world would roll in the dust of stifling materialism; but the contemplation of these facts of eternity is of no avail to the individual or to society, if it is not accompanied by the apprehension of the truth that feeling cannot check the operation of law, and that the penalties of disobedience will fall with remorseless certainty on the offender, in spite of emotion, and undivided by the clamor of prayers or the gushing of tears.

Throughout this trial we have had a vast amount of testimony descriptive of feeling, and letters without number fairly burning with it; but on neither side, in neither accuser nor accused, do we see evidence of the clear moral tone and vigorous grasp of moral obligation which fix men in our respect and build them up in our confidence."

The statement made in our paper a couple of weeks ago, that Rev. E. W. Burr, of Jersey City, would probably be the next pastor of the M. E. Church in this place has been verified. Another statement, in regard to Mr. Spellmeyer, also seems to have been a correct guess. The Newark Courier says "Rev. H. Spellmeyer, who has served efficiently in Bloomfield and earned a reputation for zeal and marked ability as a preacher, comes to the Central Church." We understand that Mr. Burr is to preach in the M. E. Church next Sunday morning, and that he will remove hither next week.

The absorbing local topic during this week has been the clandestine disappearance from our midst of Mr. J. Archibald, the well-known hotel proprietor. He left, it is believed, for the West on Saturday last. The circumstance would have little significance or public interest but for the fact that a large number of creditors are in solicitude in regard to their claims against Mr. A. His liabilities are large, and his absence is doubtless owing to excessive financial embarrassments. The hotel is now closed.
